

Dear Pastors, Churches, and Friends

January 2009

Just the Facts The fact of the matter is that Kathy and I believe we are in the center of God's perfect will for our lives. It is amazing to watch God work in these past few months here in Ireland. We are just about completely settled in now and the house now feels more like home. The Christmas Cantata was blessed of the Lord and the singing on the streets of Cork while handing out tracts was wonderful. Many visitors came and we look to see fruit from our labors. Thank you praying for the sale of our home we settled on Dec. 30th and the Lord gets the Glory.

Looking Ahead We will be very busy in this New Year with a full schedule of church activity and personal work. This is a very needy country and my burden for it is growing more all the time. I felt as if that wasn't possible but now that we are pouring our lives into these people the love for them only grows. Bro. Ledbetter will be in the states for several months so we must keep the wheels turning while he is away.

Looking Back Our container came on Dec. 17th after 2 ½ months. This was our first Christmas and New Years away from our family and friends in the states. I say "in the states" because the Lord has given us a new family and friends here in Ireland. We are grateful we were able to see our grandchildren open their presents via the webcam. I must say I long to hold the grandchildren and children, have a good Jersey pizza with friends, and see our church family. Our hands are on the plough though, and Lord willing, there will be no looking back. Luke 9:62

Blessings I write this letter just hours after leading a man to Jesus Christ in his home. Edward is a soft spoken man who realized he really wasn't saved and received Christ. I look forward to his baptism and starting a discipleship course with him. We wound up the year with many visitors to the church in the waning months of 2008. Kathy is being used greatly by the Lord as she serves the Lord by loving and helping these ladies here. I am encouraging her to write of the way God is using her in "Kathy's Korner" which will be on the website soon ladies.

Prayer Requests Please continue to pray for our lost loved ones, Ron, Rodney and Johnny. Also please remember Ann, Lawrence, Jocelyn and Michael, each with a special need. Please continue to pray for our efforts here that we would bear much fruit to the glory of God.

John 15:16 Thank you to every praying and supporting church, and know that you have fruit abounding to your account. Phil.4:17
